

GUIDELINES FOR ADVERTISING

The Ontario Occupational Health Nurses Association accepts only those display advertisements relevant to the profession. OOHNA does not accept classified advertising.

OOHNA does not knowingly carry false or misleading advertising, nor will it carry advertising that is contrary to the business interest of the Association. Appearance of an advertisement in any of its publications does not imply endorsement of the product or service advertised, either by the publication or the Association.

Further, the Institute will not accept what it regards as destructive advertising. This includes but is not limited to advertisements promoting alcohol, tobacco and armament products.

The OOHNA Editorial Committee reserves the right to accept or reject advertising at its sole discretion.
